DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3-6, 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tomoyoshi. (JP 08196966).

Tomoyoshi discloses a water feature 2 comprising: an electrically powered submersible water pump 6 to pump water to an outlet 8, a solar panel 4 disposed above the water pump 6 and beneath the water level 6, it is inherently that the water feature 2 including a vessel for containing water (see figure 1).

3. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Grazier et al.

Grazier et al. discloses a controller for solar powered electric device comprising an input for receiving power from a photovoltaic cell 10, an output for providing power to a solar powered device 11, a switching means 8 for supplying electrical power from the input to the output, the switching device 11 including means 7 and 15 for supplying power to the output only when the voltage is equal or higher than the predetermined minimum operating voltage of the solar powered device 11 (see column 4, lines 47+).

With respect to claim 8, the apparatus shown by Grazier et al. is capable of performing the method or steps recited in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tomoyoshi in view of Kocurek (DE 20015231).

Tomoyoshi teaches all the limitations of the claims except for dividing the vessel into two chambers. However, Kocurek discloses a water feature having a vessel for containing water 8, an electrically powered submersible water pump 3 to pump water to an outlet 4, a solar panel 1 disposed above the water pump 3, wherein the solar panel 1 is dividing the water feature into two chambers with chamber 7 and a chamber located above the solar panel 1 (see figure). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have provided the device of Tomoyoshi with a water feature having two chambers as suggested by Kocurek. Doing so would provide a way for separating the water feature into two chambers.

Conclusion

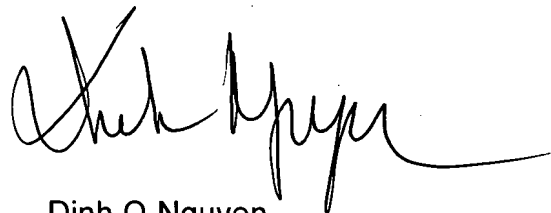

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents are cited to show the art with respect to a water feature with a solar panel: Dimitri, Gates, and Wutschik.
